

1 I, HELEN ROH, declare as follows:

2 1. I am a junior at Claremont McKenna College.

3 2. I was interested in signing up for the TestMasters LSAT preparation
4 course in Claremont this summer. I had heard about TestMasters from many
5 students who had taken a TestMasters' course in the past and had positive
6 experiences.

7 3. In order to sign up for TestMasters, I went to what I believed was the 8 TestMasters website at <www.testmasters.com>. When I looked at the website, I
9 believed that it was the website for the TestMasters that I had been referred to 10 because it was offering LSAT classes all over the United States, which I knew to be 11 true of the TestMasters I was looking for. However, when I clicked on the link for 12 a schedule of classes being taught in California, I was surprised to learn that 13 TestMasters was not offering LSAT classes in California in 2003. I got scared and 14 thought, "How can there be no course in California and courses in all other states.
15 Do they want all of the California students to flunk the LSAT?"

16 4. I then talked to some people about how TestMasters was not offering 17 classes in California in 2003. However, one person told me that she was enrolled in 18 a TestMasters class in California, and she gave me the correct website address. If I
19 had not spoken to this current TestMasters student by chance, I would have signed
20 up for a different LSAT preparation class.

22 I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States of 23 America that the foregoing is true and correct.

24 Executed this 10 th day of June 2003, at 4:00 PM.
