

1 I, Mary McIntyre, declare as follows:

2

3 1. My name is Mary McIntyre and I am the office manager at the law
4 firm Kerns, Pitrof, Frost and Pearlman.

5

6 2. My daughter, Maura McIntyre, is a student at Boston College, in
7 Massachusetts.

8

9 3. My daughter would like to apply to law school after she graduates
10 from College. In order to apply, she must take the Law School Admission Test
11 (LSAT).

13 4. My daughter heard from some friends at school that she should take 14 her LSAT Preparation Course with TestMasters. She asked me to look into
15 TestMasters. I knew that I needed to make sure that TestMasters had LSAT courses
16 available in both Boston and Chicago since my daughter will need to take part of 17 the course in Boston and the other part in Chicago. In order to find the TestMasters
18 website, I did a search on the Google search engine for TestMasters and two
19 different companies called TestMasters that offered LSAT courses came up.

20

21 5. I clicked on the "Test Masters" under the sponsored link, on the side of 22 the search engine (www.testmasters.com) and I saw that they offered courses both in 23 Chicago and Boston.

24

25 6 I then clicked on the other TestMasters that shows up as the first link
26 on the Google search engine when you type in "TestMasters"
27 (www.testmasters180.com). I read through the information on this TestMasters'
28 website and saw that this TestMasters also offers LSAT courses in Boston and Chicago.

7. I am very confused because there are two companies called TestMasters and both offer LSAT preparation courses in Chicago and Boston. I do not know which one was recommended to my daughter. As such, I have not registered her for either one as of now.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States of America that the foregoing is true and correct.
